It's Mother's Day Again!

Mother's Day is here once again, So remember to let her know, That she is always in your heart, And that you love her so. If you are able to visit her, Just think of how lucky you are. For there are millions of people, Who can't journey quite that far. So they have to send her a message, And a gift that they hope will convey, Exactly how they feel about her, And to tell her they love her each day. So if your mother is near you, Or just a little distance away, Be sure that you see her, if just for awhile, Then she'll have a real Mother's Day.

MOKENA VILLAGE BOARD ACTS ON PROJECT FOR STREET REPAIR

At the Mokena Village board meeting Tuesday night all members were present except Dave McMillan.

Willard Munch, Willard Martie, Jack Horras and Eric Anderson appeared before the board to ascertain if Martie lane, a short street which runs north east from the north end of Division St., is a village street. Martie stated that the village board did accept it as a street in 1949. Village attorney Ray Hoohehan stated that the street is open to and being used by the public and it was inferred that he considered it to be a street.

There was a question to be settled of property boundary lines along that street so the residents living there may no plant shrubbery onto the street line. The board advises all property owners on Martie Lane to set their plantings back one foot from the street line. The board will notify such owners who have their plantings too far in the street, to set them back.

Mayor Scarth announced that the motor fuel tax money has increased 20 percent since the recent recount of the village population.

R. L. Gjerde, representative of the Mulford Engineering service, Chicago Heights was present and suggested to use $4500 from the motor fuel tax this year to provide maintenance for the arterial streets in the village which the board decided to do. The streets in Mokena are going to be patched where needed and the Mulford company will do the work.

The village is going to put

FUTURE STUDENTS TOUR, ADMIRE
NEW LINCOLN-WAY HIGH SCHOOL

We have seen it as a farmhouse, in the different stages of building, the groundwork and cornerstone laying, and finally as the beautiful new Lincoln-Way high school, which last Sunday held open house for students who will attend this fall and their parents, and citizens in general.

The two floors of the building with its spacious corridors and light, cheery classrooms is about ready for district 210 students when they gather for classes in September.

Each is done in two tones some in deep and light blue rose and light pink, and lovely yellows. The huge main corridor, with windows at both ends are done in yellow and smoky white.

A wall of plate glass faces the visitor upon entering the building. In the distance, to the north can be seen a long bank of trees like the low ridge of a mountain. Two of the panels will be glass doors, and planters will be arranged to give a homey atmosphere.

All ceilings in the building are of the latest in acoustical material.

The large new agriculture department, which will have evening classes for adults in addition to the regular high school curriculum, adjoins a workshop for welding, wood working and cabinet making, and other manual arts.

The two story building has library, math room, biology lab science and several beautiful study halls. There will be an office for the renting of books which will be a great saving for the students. A decorative nurse's room is an added convenience. Other beautifully appointed rooms will offer the balance of the curriculum.

On the basement floor, is an auditorium which will not yet be finished when school opens. It was decided to finish the gymnasium first, which could double for an auditorium when the need arose.

Forty typewriter desks are accommodated in the commercial department, which was built with the idea that it could be expanded later.

Permanent flooring has been installed in all rooms, of rubber plastic tile in a variety of colors. The latest in stainless steel kitchen equipment has been installed in the cafeteria, which will give the students a hot noon meal at moderate cost. It is arranged so that the trays and dishes, when empty, can be placed on a conveyor through a window and on to the dishwasher, where a load of dishes can be washed and scalded in 52 seconds.

All in all, every visitor was favorably impressed with the practical features, beauty and space of the new school. Those entering as the first class may well be proud of that honor.

ST. MARY'S HAS PARISH FUND
RALLY: GIVE REPORT ON SCHOOL

The St. Mary's parish building fund rally was held April 28 in St. Mary's hall, Mokena. Father Cecil Koop, the new pastor presided. He stressed the importance of the parochial school in the parish as a medium of contact with the people, resulting in a greater spirit of religion.

Since the school hall has been utilized recently for Sunday services, it has been possible to accommodate larger numbers at the Sunday masses.

A report was given on the results of the school fund drive for the first year, as well as a general outline of the condition of the parish. Pledges were requested for the year just commencing, with the idea of doing better than ever.

Father Cecil commended the Sisters of St. Francis for their tireless efforts on behalf of the school and church. He expressed his satisfaction in being associated with St. Mary's, and stated

The annual dance of the Mokena Fire department will be held this Saturday night in the VFW hall on Wolf road in Mokena. It needs not be stated that this is one of the means to maintain the department which is our fire protection. Most everyone is cooperative in buying the dance tickets, the money from which goes into the department for maintaining and repair of the fire truck.

In the circular letter sent out by the fire department to citizens in this locality, it was shown that it is now necessary to purchase a second truck, preferably of the tank type, and that it is not wise to wait until the present truck needs to be replaced before taking this step.

Further explanation was made concerning the present truck which was bought nine years ago and which has answered increasing number of calls each year. The department believes that the residents and businessmen of the district who contributed so generously at that time to purchase the present truck should not at this time be asked to contribute for this second truck. They are therefore asking the new families who have moved into this area within the past nine years and who have not contributed to this cause, if they will do so at this time, so that the second truck may become a reality.

We must all remember that the fire department of Mokena never refuses to answer a distress call whether they have contributed to this cause or not. The firemen, when they hear the siren blow, drop all work their employers granting them time off to help freely, so that they may go as quickly as possible to relieve and help those in need. They do not receive any recompense for their service, which they are happy to give.

This is a time that others beside the volunteer firemen can answer the call of the siren, by coming to the aid of the fire department and helping them at this time when they need a second fire truck, and in that way also each help themselves to help protect their own property.

All the department is asking from everyone is $3 as the regular donation to maintain the department, outside of securing the second truck.

Everyone is proud of our firemen who give many hours of hard work when fighting a fire and we can show that pride in no way better than subscribing to the second truck. It is needed, especially as our territory continues to grow. Even if you do not go to the dance, send in your money to help in this necessary civic project.

For those who do not want to dance there will be the usual tables for playing cards, pin-ochle etc., and for those who do not play cards nor dance, it will be pleasant to just listen to the music of the good orchestra which has been engaged for the evening, and visiting with your friends and neighbors will also be a pleasant event.

See you at the firemen's dance.

ed he is happy to be here, believing St. Mary's has a great future. He is working closely with the officers of the two parish organizations, the Holy Name society and the Sacred Heart league, and gave a word of welcome to all who wished to assist on parish projects.

Announcement was made regarding St. Mary's quota for the Bishop's Joliet High school fund. Team captains are Raymond Hoohehan, Arthur Marshall, Riel ard Montezon and Michael Clegg. After a question and answer period, Joseph Henneberry, chairman of the executive committee addressed the assembly.

A buffet supper was served by the ladies with Mrs. tel in charge.

St. Mary's Girls' choir gave a variety of popular numbers Joyce Klinger and Theresa Shunko sang a duet. Variety music was supplied by John Marce, and there was community singing.

Industrial research has reduced the price of the metal zirconium from about $250 per pound to $15 per pound. The metal is needed because of its ability to withstand heat at far-tastic temperatures.

More plentiful than copper, nickel, lead, or zinc, it might not have been developed commercially except for the discovery that it was superior to any other known metal for forming the supports of atomic furnaces. The raw materials are plentiful on the beaches of Oregon and Florida.

Optical Illusion 'Lowers the Roof'

You can make a "boxy traditional" house look lower and more modern by applying paint to its masonry surfaces. To create this illusion, here's a decorator's trick: paint horizontal masonry lines to contrast with the rest of the house, and vertical planes to match. Areas to color shown above are: (1) concrete steps; (2) construction block foundation; and (3) masonry chimney. This styling has been gaining wide popularity since Martin-Senour introduced Colorcol masonry paint in 144 colors, varying from light pastels to deep tones. It can be used on concrete, construction block, stucco, brick, or asbestos shingles. Another way to lower the house is to paint the masonry foundation the same color as the terrain.

New Combine Has Both Power Steering And Hydraulic Speed Control

Driving a combine fast or slow, to suit crop condition, is now made as easy and accurate as feeding gas to an automobile. It's done by a rocker-type pedal which applies hydraulic control to the variable-speed drive of the new Model "120" self-propelled Case combine. A booster cylinder provides hydraulic power steering, and a little lever on the steering post operates a hydraulic header adjustment.

Another feature is a single-lever setting of the concave, both front and rear, with an indicator that shows the working clearance. The fast unloading auger, which empties a 45-bushel bin in about a minute, is hinged so that it folds back out of the way for road travel or compact storage. Free-wheeling is provided for fast towing.

Gracious Living

BY LYNN SCOTT
Director, Plaskon Home Arts Council

How often have you heard a radio or television guest admit, with embarrassment, "I'm a housekeeper?" Why be embarrassed about the proudest, most artistic job in the world: the art of making a home? Here are a few ideas about home arts that prove it takes skill, imagination and a flair for self-expression to be a homemaker.

With spring in mind, refreshing new table settings can be made with daffodils, tulips and accents of pussy-willows used with a clear yellow or pearl gray cloth. Shades of yellow, gray and brown serve as perfect color harmony for the new melamine dinnerware designed by Colorlyte in lush, mottled tones of mist gray, glade green, spray lime and copertone. Melamine dinnerware is now an outstanding favorite with homemakers who want to combine beauty of design and color with practicality, for this type of dinnerware is virtually unbreakable, chip-proof, can be used in an automatic dishwasher, and is of solid color throughout.

And, now that spring is calling, many a homemaker has her little paint brush swinging madly. Here is an idea from "Paint It Yourself," a new book by the noted color engineer, Howard Ketchum, which shows the American homemaker how to paint everything from interesting folk designs on provincial furniture to modern monograms on glass. One of the many good ideas found in this book is the suggestion of painting colorful brushwork designs on showing stair risers (steps) to lessen the danger of mis-steps and falls, besides lending a cheery note to this generally drab feature in many homes.

If winter moisture has loosened the veneer of one of your favorite pieces of furniture, you can easily repair it by use of Weldwood glue. Simply remove the old glue with light scraping, mix the glue and apply to the loose veneer. Press into position and then remove the excess glue with a damp cloth. Place waxed paper over the work and apply pressure for several hours or overnight under a pile of books or other heavy objects. A generous application of furniture polish over the entire piece of furniture will have it looking like new again.

John Gerald, one of America's top decorators, is finding wide acceptance of his use of pastel colors for basic walls. As perennial a favorite as dark green has been, it, too, is taking on a lighter, soft emerald hue. Decorators are also finding wide acceptance of fire resistant urea plastic wall plates and outlet plugs that are available in pastel tones to match the walls, rather than the brass plates of yesteryear. Although pastel colors seem to be leading the field for wall colors and upholstery fabrics because of their restful, airy and spacious qualities, the vivid, dominant colors are much in evidence for accents throughout the home.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

If you, along with legions of other Americans, are planning your vacation after May, you may be interested in knowing that my personally-tested and, I believe, useful tips on car travel will be published in book form in May.

The book publishing firm of Simon and Schuster recently approached my employer, Shell Oil Company, with the idea of gathering information for motorists into one concise volume. As a result of our conversations, this book, published under the title "Traveling By Car," will be available in time to be of help to this year's vacationing motorist. Information in this book, which is subtitled "A Family Guide to Better Vacations," has been compiled from material in this column, my speeches before women's clubs throughout the country, numerous magazine articles and frequent booklets.

"Traveling By Car" will include hundreds of practical, road-tested tips on car travel in the United States, Canada and Mexico. It will cover such topics as planning, budgeting, packing, traveling with children and pets, weather, camping and collecting souvenirs. The book contains probably the most up-to-date and comprehensive collection of listings ever compiled for automobile tourists. Sized to fit into a glove compartment, this book is designed to help you get the most from your car trips.

I am delighted at the opportunity to have my travel and vacation ideas collected into one volume and hope motor-minded people throughout the country will find my book both helpful and informative.

Cook Publishers Urge New Ideals In Comic Books

The David C. Cook Publishing Company, Elgin, has joined the outcry against the avalanche of horror comic books that youngsters of today are reading.

Dean Ireland, editorial director, co-incident with announcement of a "Sunday Pix" publication for Sunday Schools, said "The whole country is aroused by the influence of horror and crime 'comic' books or children. This was highlighted in the recent two day session on the problem held by the Senate Judiciary subcommittee under Senator Robert C. Hendrickson. An outspoken member of this committee is Senator Ke fauer.

"A multitude of words are being written and spoken about these vicious books that are flooding our country and corrupting our children. In all this discussion it seems to us there should be more attention given to the kind of children's books that can serve as an antidote for the crime 'comic' book poison and help create a healthy wholesome attitude in the minds of our youngsters.

"The color cartoon technique can be used positively as a means of educating youngsters to basic Christian truths and their application to everyday activities. It is brilliant with color—it dramatizes the familiar Bible stories in easy to read easy to remember pictures—it is historically accurate in its presentation of how people actually worked and played in ancient times—it may offer puzzles and quizzes as well as true adventure tales.

IN MEMORIAM

WANNEMACHER, Herman—In loving memory of our beloved father and grandfather who departed this earth May 6, 1953. Gone but not forgotten.

A happy home we once enjoyed. How sweet the memory still. But death has left a loneliness. This world can never fill. Rest in peace "dear father," In mansions of the blest. Where there is no pain or sorrow.

Only sweet eternal rest.

teams same way for the last place. Oh well, one more night to go and no more guessing.
Only this week Goebel's have undisputed right to the base-

Vogt's. H&S won 2 games from
INR. The heat sure affected some of the bowlers as there was 2 over 600, Andy Plattis with 214-211-620 (he sure was sizzling), and Chuck Schanz

here most of us can't hit 500—
only 2 with 500 this week

OUR DEMOCRACY by Mat

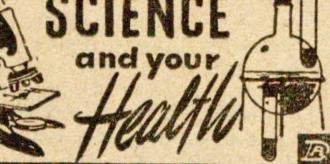

"KNOWLEDGE AND THE FREE USE..."

IN CELEBRATING ITS BICENTENNIAL THIS YEAR, COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY, FOUNDED IN NEW YORK IN COLONIAL DAYS AS "KING'S COLLEGE", IS PROCLAIMING MAN'S RIGHT TO KNOWLEDGE AND THE FREE USE THEREOF, AS ITS THEME.

COLUMBIA AND OUR OTHER COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES ARE MIGHTY BULWARKS IN MAINTAINING OUR BASIC FREEDOMS. THEY NOW HAVE TWO AND A QUARTER MILLION STUDENTS—EVIDENCE OF THE BREADTH AND VITALITY OF EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY IN OUR DEMOCRACY.

THE AUTOMATIC EYE
By Science Features

The miraculously sensitive and delicate instruments that people have on either side of their nose—their eyes—should be greatly appreciated. The camera, a close copy of the eye, has to be continuously adjusted and focused, but the eyes are fully automatic. They can glance from a magazine, out of a window to a moving object and instantaneously send these sight impulses to the brain for appropriate reaction.

Because of their sensitivity, many parts of the eye areas—such as the lids, cornea or conjunctiva—can be easily damaged. An insignificantly small particle in the eye, the most frequent cause of injury, can result in pain and tears that often stop a person in his tracks.

It is fortunate that people are made extremely miserable by eye trouble, because they then seek immediate relief. Doctors have new instruments and anesthetics to treat the eye and eliminate pain and they also use antibiotics and hormone drugs. The hormones, such as hydrocortisone, relieve the inflammation and antibiotics fight infection. A new preparation, called cortril with terramycin, is the first to combine these qualities for treating a wide variety of eye infections.

There are many common illnesses that can beset the eye: the minor scratch or bruise, styes, the highly contagious pink eye, or the swollen crusty condition called blepharitis are just a few. Minor ailments, if not cared for, can cause loss of sight, so however slight the annoyance, it should be treated by a doctor.

TAX FACTS
By George Mahin, Executive Secretary
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Carl J. Megel, president of the American Federation of Teachers, in a letter to the executive secretary of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, takes issue with the statement that the teacher strike in Madison, Ill. constituted "a disgraceful disregard of professional ethics," and contends that "Madison and all free America should be proud of teachers who exercise their democratic rights in the face of dictatorial and arbitrary action."

George Mahin, executive secretary of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, replies: "Teachers have No Right to strike. Policemen and firemen have No Right to strike. Garbage collectors have No Right to strike. No employees of government—federal, state or local, have any right to strike. Any teacher, any policeman or fireman, any garbage collector, or any other government employee who goes out on strike should be notified immediately to report back to work and should be fired immediately if he does not."

Christian Science Churches

Man's real spiritual status as the perfect image and likeness of God, not subject to sin or other weakness, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man" includes the following passages from the Bible: "And God said Let us make man in our image after our likeness. So God created man in his own image in the image of God created he him: male and female created he them" (Genesis 1:26 to 27.)

The following selection will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Spiritually to understand that there is but one creator, God, unfolds all creation, confirms the Scriptures, brings the sweet assurance of no parting no pain, and of man deathless and perfect and eternal" (69:13)

Challenge to Evil

Lesson for May 9, 1954

IF YOU have never read the story of Elijah and the prophets of Baal, you have missed one of the most dramatic stories of the world's literature. And yet however you take it, you may be left with the feeling that this tale does not belong in the twentieth century. Nobody believes in Baal any more, and miracles like fire from heaven that will in one instant burn up animals, wood, stones and deep trenches full of water—such miracles just don't happen any more. But this is more than a wonderful tale out of the far past. Like all of the Bible, it has something to say to us today as to men of all times and places.

Dr. Foreman

When Evils Are Idols

Every age has its Baals. Idols are not always made of stone or wood. They may not be in any physical shape at all, an idol may be an idea, a "spirit of the times." It can be a desire or a dream. All idols are bad because they are always in place of the true God; but the worst idols are evils which are so popular that they are taken for granted. The Baal against whom Elijah fought his brave battle single-handed was the god of the royal family; and it was so nearly the god of all the nation that Elijah had the impression that he and he alone could see the holiness of this cruel god. The truth was that the worship of Baal was not a theological heresy; Baal was not simply a wrong name for God. Baalism involved crimes in Baal's name; no true worshipper of Baal could be pure or kind of heart. Baalism was worse than a national religion; it was a national cancer and the end of it would be national death. Elijah knew it; but nobody else knew it; and so when he attacked Baal the authorities marked him down as a bad character. So, far from thanking him for challenging a great evil, he was run out of the country like an ordinary criminal.

Why Reformers Are Hated

You can divide all citizens into two kinds. One (whether realizing it or not) takes for its motto "Whatever is, is right." The other kind sees that some things that are, ought not to be. And a few of this other kind begin to agitate and talk about changes that must be made. They are sometimes called reformers; but they are usually called worse names. One hundred years ago and more, there was a book written by a man named Helper, which pointed out in detail the bad economic effects of slavery in the states that practiced and legalized it. The book was not answered; it was banned. In at least one state it was a legal offense to own a copy of it. Helper himself was attacked in newspapers and in pulpits. For he had dared to challenge the Baal of slavery. In those days, in the north as well as in the south, to be an "abolitionist" was to be low-rated as a crack-pot or a liar, or worse. Nowadays, two of our Baals are war and the liquor traffic. What happens to persons who say a word against that great temple of the Pentagon? What happens to people who come out with the truth about the effects of liquor and propose even to limit liquor advertising? They too are called crackpots, liars and worse.

The Tide of Tomorrow

Elijah was mightily discouraged at one time. It looked to him as if the whole country was against him. God had to explain to him that there were seven thousand good people still in his country, even if he was the only man who had the courage to speak out. It is always that way. For one person was has the nerve to challenge evil in a loud clear voice, there are thousands who believe as he does, only with their mouths shut. But the important thing was not that Elijah had some sympathizers. The important fact was that he was on the side of God. Little David never looks as if he had a chance against Goliath; but the real reason why David is stronger is that God is for him and against Goliath. Those who are against God, no matter how popular they may be, are pushing against the tides of the universe; the Elijahs, ridiculed and outlawed though they be, when they challenge the destroyers of man, in the name of God, know that God at last always wins.

QUARTER MILLION DRIVE TO REESTABLISH OPERA

A drive for $250,000 to insure the permanence of a resident opera company for Chicago has been launched this week by The Lyric Theatre of Chicago. This development came simultaneously with announcement of a fall season of sixteen opera performances, November 1-20 at the Civic Opera House.

The Lyric Theatre presented the highly successful "Calling Card" performances of Mozart's opera Don Giovanni in February. Carol Fox and Lawrence V. Kelly established the Lyric Theatre in 1951 after perceiving the need for a city of Chicago's stature to have its own opera company. As co-directors of the company, they explained the need for funds.

"We intend", they said, "to operate on a self sustaining basis with production costs geared to probable box office revenue. Our need for funds, therefore is not predictable on the expectation of deficits, as we have proved that Chicago will support opera at the ticket window

DAY CAMP TO OPEN JUNE 27 AT FOUNDATION

A unique camping experience for 7 to 11 year old children is available again this year at the Foundation Farm camp held at the Community Center foundation, Palos Park, Ill. The camp is located on 60 acres of farm and woodland, next to a forest preserve, about 23 miles southwest of the Loop.

The camping season begins June 27 and closes in August. Campers can sign up for two-week periods, the first of which runs from June 27 to July 10 the second from July 11 to 24 the third from July 25 to Aug. 7 and the last from Aug. 8 to 21.

During each period, 12 boys and 12 girls are accepted. Every group of six children has a counselor of its own, which means there are four counselors with the children at all times. Activities include planting and cultivating gardens, learning to milk cows, riding horses and ponies, learning baseball and other games including archery and campcraft. Short camping trips into the woods teach the youngsters how to cook and sleep outdoors.

Indian lore of the Palos area is taught by Paul T. Sanders, director of the foundation. Each child belongs to one of four Indian tribes in the camp, the Potawatomi, Iroquois, Illini and Fox. The children are formally taken into the tribes at a big council fire and ceremonial the first night of camp.

Children are accepted for the camp after interviews with the camp director and/or his assistants. In the past, children from all races and creeds have been very happy members of the camp, which is a step toward creating future understanding between all lands and ways of life.

For further information and a camp bulletin, write or visit the foundation, which is located on Southwest Highway (Route 7) at 127th St. A stone pillar marks the entrance on the west side of the highway. The camp committee is headed by Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Chambon of Palos Heights, and includes Mr. and Mrs. M. Kruissink, River Forest; Mrs. Evelyn Gifford, Flossmoor; Mrs. Alice Wasick, Chicago; Rev. and Mrs. Paul Sanders; Mrs. Joseph Denison, Homewood and Mrs. Vernon Jaynes, Palos Heights.

Christian Science churches

How the selfishness and egoism which would impede man's spiritual progress can be overcome through obedience to God, divine Love, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" includes the following verses from the King James Version of the Bible: "As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: If any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me (Revelation 3: 19, 20).

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will also be read:

"In patient obedience to a patient God, let us labor to dissolve with the universal solvent of Love the adamant of error,—self-will, self-justification, and self-love,— which wars against spirituality, and is the law of sin and death" (242:15).

The Golden Text is from Job: "Surely it is meet to be said unto God, I have borne chastisement, I will not offend any more (34:31).

BABSON SAYS—

Recent magazine articles offer proof that our schools need overhauling. I am glad to have the good company of Collier's magazine for the reform which I have been urging for some time. If I understand the educational process at all, it seems only logical that before a teacher can teach anybody anything he must command respect.

I can take you into classrooms in one of our large eastern cities where last year several teachers had nervous breakdowns; substitute teachers stayed a day or two, then left. The problem—poor discipline. Finally, one determined, old fashioned substitute took over. The principal urged her to send the misbehavers to him. She felt any such action on her part would be an acknowledgment of her own inadequacy. Finally in despair, she did send a dozen pupils a day to the principal who in turn flogged them out by one. But it was too late. They had gone too far too long. Even the good disciplinarian could not take it.

She bowed out too because she had to spend all her time trying to maintain a semblance of order and never did get around to teaching anything.

Or, I can tell you about a reasonably plush prep school where the headmaster decided to teach some of the boys how to read. After all they had reached the tenth grade and it was time they knew how! Well, believe it or not, the headmaster failed to show up about half the time; the boys did not make it the other half. The program just fizzled out. These are symptoms of a problem, and it is more widespread than you realize. I have said before in this column, and I will say it again: if delinquency is on the increase, and our young people are hard and callous, it is because their teachers and parents are getting soft and careless.

These magazine articles suggest that the brain trusters (Professors in Schools of Education, I assume) have sold the schools down the river. When our kids graduate, not only from public high school, but from many of our preparatory schools, they cannot properly read or write. They cannot do eighth grade arithmetic. I am told of a batch of tests given last fall to college freshmen from widely divergent parts of the country to prove my points. Yet, these kids were admitted to college because the principals recommended them as being well qualified.

Many of these boys have already flunked out of college. Both father and son have been shortchanged by the public and private schools. When a son graduates from a secondary school, both father and son are made to believe son was some body he really was not at all—and all because the school was shipped too long before the false shrine of mediocrity. Schools and colleges too, need to take a closer look at their standards and values. This is a national problem. How can we develop good leaders in business, or how can we even hope to hold our own internationally, if all we have to offer is mediocrity?

I have been shocked to discover the number of school principals and superintendents who seem to think there is something heathen, something un-Christian, something damaging about individual competition. They develop report cards that attempt to tell a parent how the child is doing in terms of his own ability, but hush-hush his relatives standing in the group. Schools also too often measure their teachers in terms of extra summer courses taken or advanced degrees, and not often enough do they use the yardstick of classroom discipline.

I ask you, what spurs an individual on to do his best? Is it not, fundamentally, the struggle for recognition and achievement? The individual wants to prove he is a man among men that he counts, whether he be a teacher or preacher, conqueror, an inventor conquering technical frontiers, or a salesman satisfying our wants and needs. We need to rekindle this spirit of competition in the classroom. Superintendent Philip J. Hickey of St. Louis has made a good start in this direction.
